THE TURKEY'S THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

BY GERALD PRIME

GOBBLERS and gobblerines of every kind and station, I beg you to give heed to this my proclamation: Tis now th' very season when our turkey eating foes Labor briskly overtime to make us adipose. Temptations strong and subtle lurk ever at our door, Seek to keep us eating as eve've never done before.

We've been surfeited with tidbits dear to th' turkey heart, Celery and chestnuts a fine flavor do impart To our ever toothsome flesh, soon to fall an easy prey To those who thus do celebrate their dread Thanksgiving day. 'Tis cannibalistic, truly, smacks of ancient Rome. Lucullus and his peacock feast and sybaritic home. With such views held steadfastly in modern turkeydom Tis time that to this massacre a sudden end should come. And I do hereby give you, O turks and turkerines, A recipe for calling off these melancholy scenes, Which, like a horrid pestilence, frequently have come To mar the perfect peace which belongs to turkeydom. Our safety lies in fasting. No appetite so keen As to relish bird anaemic, abnormally so lean That all its flesh is shrunken and all its flavor past. Therefore, fellow victims, I proclaim a turkey fast!
